Introduction

Since 2002 Aurenda have been reducing injury costs in the workplace across Mining industry. Aurenda specialises in safety, injury prevention, injury management and training services.

How we work

Aurenda specialises in understanding a client's business from the inside out. We act as an advocate, protecting the employer's interests and mitigating their financial exposures. We provide a one stop solution for managing risk and injury in the workplace, whilst reducing the financial and human cost for employers.

Aurenda's proactive approach, managing each and every injury from the time it occurs to return to work and closure, shortens recovery timeframes and reduces costs.

Results

Aurenda's results speak for themselves. In the first year working with a Mining company we reduce real claims costs by at least 40% and have an excellent track record continuing to reduce costs year on year with many of our clients receiving a reduction in real claims costs of 80% by the 5th year of our partnership. These results lead to our clients considering our services to be a profit centre, rather than an additional expense

• Testimonial

The Byrnecut group have had a long and successful business relationship with Aurenda going back to 2004

Aurenda have a proven ability to source the best medical interventions for our injured workers from the initial reviews through to specialised treatment and provision of rehabilitation. They are in regular contact with the injured worker and the medical providers and deliver critical updates and information to our sites and corporate management. With information provided by our sites and in consultation with treating doctors, Aurenda are able to develop robust return to work programs that meet legislative requirements and assist with returning the injured workers back to pre-injuries duties.

With over 2000 employees across multiple sites and jurisdictions, Aurenda have a thorough understanding of the applicable legislation. This knowledge assists to develop strategies for improved return to work outcomes for our injured workers and plays a critical role in dealing with insurers and governing bodies through their hands on approach during files reviews, providing a strong voice when assisting to manage difficult claims.

The designated Byrnecut consultants maintain good working relationships with site and corporate management. It is a credit to those consultants who have worked hard to develop an understanding of underground mining including scheduled site visits.

We look forward to our continued alliance with Aurenda, ensuring quality workers compensation and injury management outcomes.
